Captain Shaw Elected

Congratulations are due to Captain Shaw on the showing of the recount that he was the man elected in Bow Valley at the recent provincial elections.

That it took a recount to show this, and that the majority is small, only goes to prove how much his opponents feared Captain Shaw's presence in the legislature and how strenuously they tried to keep him out.

All that the Liberal government could do, all that Mr. H. W. Wood could do, all that officials of the wheat pool could do, all that personal influence, organized influence and government influence could do, was done to defeat the Liberal leader.

His victory is the more striking, the more complete, and the more significant, on that account.

The measure of the efforts they made to defeat him is the measure of the esteem placed upon the abilities of Captain Shaw by the Brownlee government and Mr. H. W. Wood.

The Three Main Issues

In his opening campaign speech at Ottawa, Hon. Mackenzie King swept the whole field of politics and set out clearly and in order the main questions which the voters will have to decide at the ballot boxes.

The Liberal leader very unceremoniously yanked Mr. Meighen out from behind the figure of the former governor general, and placed him to find refuge, and stood him before the public as the man who is responsible for the establishment of the bureau which was set up by Lord Byng, who has to answer for that autocratic assumption of the right to rule, and whose conduct the voters will have to either condemn or condone.

Mr. King demands that the customs enquiry shall be continued, and that the investigation shall be prompt, thorough and complete. It is the Mackenzie King government which started the work of unearthing the crookedness that had been going on in and around that department, and it was the investigator of that government who produced the evidence that was reviewed and politically colored in the parliamentary committee. It is the Mackenzie King government which made the completion of that probe, and the fixing of responsibility where it belongs, as his justification for the Liberal leader's policy.

The voters must decide also what kind of fiscal policy they are to live and do business under during the next five years. Mr. Meighen stands for a "block" for most other countries, and the United States and all other foreign goods. The policy for which Liberals contend is the policy of lower duties and reduced duties on other goods, and the Bobb budget. Whether they vote on that issue or not, the public will get whichever of these policies their votes sanction.

Representative Government at Stake

Necessarily the constitutional issue was the key note sounded by Hon. Mackenzie King in his Ottawa speech.

Premier Meighen denies that there is any such issue. Premier Meighen and his alleged government is the embodiment of that issue. The Liberal government, which is the embodiment of that issue, is the embodiment of that issue. The Liberal government, which is the embodiment of that issue, is the embodiment of that issue.

Mr. Meighen refused to "play cricket." He refused to keep by himself what he had gained by "conspiracy." Instead of resigning, he resigned parliament and changed his shadow cabinet for one composed of private citizens having no higher claim to public confidence.

Mr. Meighen and his associates are carrying on the affairs of the country today without parliamentary authority to pay the salaries of the civil service or to make any other disbursements of the public funds. He is doing so by a gross abuse of the provision made in the law for the issue of government warrants, in order to meet unforeseen and emergent expenditures.

The Mackenzie "government" is not a government at all. It is an association of political bureaucrats who have exalted themselves by trickery and who maintain themselves by a thickly organized system of whatever safeguards of responsible government they can find.

This cabal that has appropriated to itself the power to rule Canada is the legitimate offspring of our own autocracy. It does not even pretend to be a government, but it is trying to make that party the vehicle of its convenience. In its creation, its methods, its character and its implications it is not Conservative but destructive.

The very existence of this unauthorized junta is a negation and a defiance of the proclamation of Sir Robert Borden that the people of Canada stand upon a basis of equality with the people of Great Britain in the right to govern themselves.

If the Meighen "government" has a right to exist, then Canada has not the status of a crown colony. It has only the status of a Mexican republic, in which the ruler who can exercise power by strategy or force and hold it by disregard of constitutional provision and procedure.

The existence of this alleged government is the constitutional issue upon which Mr. King invites the voters of Canada to pronounce in the terms of modernization, and in the terms of representative government in Canada can be little more than a game.

WORK OUT
They let me home to mind me, and I smelt at such a

To mind a leavy three-year-old's job that I should Thought I'll let her romp about, and sit beneath a
And smelt my pipe and read a book, as happy as can be.

And now the day is over, and at last she's safe in bed,
But, oh, my feet are weary by the strenuous race she
My nerves are all a tingle and my muscles stiff and sore
There's too much steam in three-year-olds for a man of forty-four.

I chased her through the garden, and I chased her down
the street,
And little girls of three and four have wings upon their feet.

I thought I had her anchored at a sand box full content
But when I sat me down to read, away like lightning she went.

I reached her from water, and I reached her from fire,
I took her from a friend or two all tangled with the wire,
I had it any notion there was such mischief round
As in the day I smelt her that little lady found.

But now the day is over, and now I'm nearly dead,
And now her hair is crying: "I don't want to go to bed!"
And I have learned a lesson which I didn't know before

I reached her from water, and I reached her from fire,
I took her from a friend or two all tangled with the wire,
I had it any notion there was such mischief round
As in the day I smelt her that little lady found.

But now the day is over, and now I'm nearly dead,
And now her hair is crying: "I don't want to go to bed!"
And I have learned a lesson which I didn't know before
There's too much steam in three-year-olds for a man of forty-four.

I chased her through the garden, and I chased her down

PREVENTING MALARIA

The easiest simplest and cheapest way to prevent malaria is to keep on hour each morning or late in the afternoon the mosquito netting that have upon the night trying to kill you.

When a lady mosquito of the malarious bearing genus has killed her host, she is not only a nuisance but she is a danger to her host. She is a danger to her host. She is a danger to her host.

The best instrument of construction is a fly swatter. The one you use to kill the mosquito. The one you use to kill the mosquito. The one you use to kill the mosquito.

Looking Forward in Alberta!

In the glowing future of Industrial Alberta will you play an active part?

THE OIL structures of Alberta, already proven, verify the oft-repeated claims of the geological authorities that this is not only the richest petroleum area in Canada, by far—one well alone producing more than all the rest of the Dominion—but is the richest, potentially, in the world.

With the ever-increasing demand of industry for petroleum products, the eyes of the world are now turned on Alberta, the scene of the next production.

With Canada spending $120,000,000 abroad every year for gasoline and oil, it is not difficult to realize the important place of petroleum production and refining in the industrial picture of the Dominion's future.

Nor does it require extraordinary powers of vision to see what this situation means to the future of Alberta in particular.

ALBERTA'S petroleum development, a basic industry of the province, now in its very infancy; a great and immediate demand for the crude and refined product;—here is the unique situation which the men behind the Alberta Refineries Limited and the Refineries Distributors Limited realized and have crystallized into an opportunity which is now offered to Albertans.

It is seldom that an organization with its output already in demand and seeking capital to extend its plant to supply a further demand already existing, goes to the public with its proposition. Yet that is the method of the Refineries Distributors Limited by which the general public of Alberta may participate in the profits already in sight.

REFINERIES DISTRIBUTORS LIMITED, a block of whose shares is now offered at par, was organized to distribute the "Pep" petroleum products of the "Alberta Refineries Ltd." which is already operating a refining plant of 1000 barrels a day capacity, and will build another 500-barrel plant immediately.

The program of Refineries Distributors Limited, is to build and operate Service Stations for the marketing of "Pep" products, and to operate a "Cracking Plant" by which 50 per cent to 70 per cent gasoline will be recovered from the crude oil of the adjacent Wainwright field. This will increase the output of "Pep" for which the demand already far exceeds the supply.

READ elsewhere on this page the figures, details and estimated profits of this company, and you will be convinced of the merit of the investment opportunity now offered to Albertans.

The future of this important branch of Alberta's forthcoming leading industry is a foregone conclusion. Whether you are to be one of those whose vision and enterprise will lead them to reap the rich rewards of the pioneer in this unique field or not is a matter for you to decide—now.

The big fortunes in Industry have been made by those who invested at the inception of the enterprise.

"PEP" is the appropriate name given to the gasoline product of Alberta Refineries Limited, produced from the crude oil of the Wainwright field.

"PEP" has justified its name as a lively, reliable, anti-knock gasoline which motorists insist upon after once having used it. Today the present "PEP" plant is inadequate for the demand.

Cracking Plant, an economic marvel

Prof. Gustav Egloff of the Universal Oil Products Company Research Laboratories, in a lecture before the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers, spoke emphatically upon the wonderful economy and value of the "Cracking Plant" in the production of high grade anti-knock Gasoline from crude oil.

He claimed, and showed by tests and actual production in many fields, that by the Dubbs process, from 50 to 70 per cent gasoline is extracted from the crude and showed that "from the Kevin Sunburst crude this percentage is always obtainable. The heavier crude from the Smack-over field is mentioned as showing "the wonderful potentialities of this process."

"One of the wonder oil fields of the United States is the Smack-over Arkansas, which is still producing 180,000 barrels per day, of which 163,000 barrels (December 31, 1925), is heavy oil. This oil, of asphaltic character, is not very satisfactory as a fuel oil due to its emulsified water, high sulphur contents and other properties.

"The general inquiry when a new Smack-over well was brought in 'What will they do with it after they get it?'

"One leading oil man stated that Smack-over 'Heavy crude' had everything in it it should not have for a refinery. Yet, despite these pessimistic statements, Smack-over heavy oil is being commercially cracked into over 50% gasoline. Smack-over heavy crude oil production of 163,000 barrels daily can be converted into 81,500 barrels of gasoline per day by the cracking process."

The results achieved promise those which will be accomplished by the Cracking Plant in treating the crude oil from the Wainwright field, as the chemical composition and gravity of the oils are almost identical.

"The Dubbs Process is so flexible that it converts any type of oil without change of principle or equipment into gasoline. Commercial plants are in operation or under course of construction in various parts of the world, such as Japan, Borneo, Java, and Dutch West Indies, Australia, Rumania, and many parts of the United States."

REFINERIES Distributors Ltd. was organized with a Dominion Charter, capitalized at $1,000,000, divided into 90,000 8% Preference Shares with a par value of $10.00 each; and 100,000 Common Shares with a par value of $1.00 each. Paid up capital is $200,000.

The company was organized to market the "PEP" products of the Albert Refineries Ltd., and also to produce gasoline and other products from crude petroleum by means of a cracking plant, this plant employing the Dubbs process, a great scientific and economic advance over the ordinary refining plant, extracting from 3 to 5 times as much gasoline from the crude oil.

The present issue, for the purpose of carrying on the immediate program of the company, is 30,000 Preference Shares, of which 10,000 shares have already been sold. The Preference Shares are offered in units of 1 at par $10.00, and each of these Preference shares carries a bonus of 1 Common Share.

The initial program of the company is to erect and maintain a number of Service Stations throughout the Province for the marketing of "PEP" gasoline and petroleum products, a profit of 3c per gallon clear of freight being available from this source alone at the present market prices.

Also to erect a "Cracking Plant" at a cost of $150,000. This will have a capacity of 1,000 bbls. of crude oil and will produce from this a minimum of 500 bbls. of anti-knock gasoline every twenty-four hours. At 35 gallons to the barrel, this shows a total output of 17,500 gallons a day.

Apart from the individual profit of the cracking plant unit working at capacity, the output marketed through the service stations shows a distributing profit of $525.00 per day net. This alone will show a handsome dividend on a $1,000,000.00 capitalization in addition to the 8% per annum on the preferred shares.

Detailed figures will show this enterprise to be one of the very highest potentialities for profit. We shall be pleased to send a digest of the situation, based upon actual conditions, to the earnest investor.

In the meantime the soundness of the proposition will appeal to the investor who realizes that these pioneer enterprises in industry based directly upon natural resources, reap the rich reward.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

In Harlowe Garden, Long Island, an old-fashioned, low-lived Perry Heath, an artist, and his wife, Mrs. Heath, a cold, blond beauty and wealthy in her own right, were not in love with her husband, but she tolerated him, mainly for his position as a successful business man. At the time the story opens, the Heaths were entertaining two house guests—Laurie, a distant relative of Mrs. Heath, and her son, Perry, who had just returned from a trip to Europe. Mrs. Heath was a peculiar woman. She had never loved or ever loved anyone in her life. She was dressed in colors—nothing but whites or grays or other neutral tones. She had a passion for collecting rare old bottles and her house was an old whisky bottle, which she was quite proud of, but which annoyed her husband to death.

There is a genuine intimacy between Laurie and Mrs. Heath and between Laurie and Perry. Laurie, at a bridge game Mrs. Heath, who had never loved or ever loved anyone in her life, had made her husband's friend, Laurie, cutting out Perry, evidence that she was a candidate for the presidency of the Country Club and that she was a woman named SAM. Laurie, through a series of events, had become a friend of Mrs. Heath's. Laurie, through a series of events, had become a friend of Mrs. Heath's.
